4flow appoints global supply chain industry leader Greg Toornman as strategic advisor to drive global supply chain innovation

Detroit–4flow, a leading provider of supply chain consulting, software and fourth-party logistics (4PL) services, is pleased to announce the appointment of AGCO Corporation’s former Global Vice President of Materials Management, Logistics and Demand Planning Greg Toornman as strategic advisor. In this role, Toornman will leverage his extensive experience to foster strategic growth and deepen connections among supply chain leaders across the industries served by 4flow.

Toornman joins 4flow following a distinguished 20-year tenure at AGCO, where he led the transformation of the company's global materials management, logistics and sales and operations functions. During his time at AGCO, Toornman successfully integrated innovative strategies that provided a competitive advantage in the global marketplace. With Toornman’s leadership, the company not only enhanced operational efficiency but also earned prestigious accolades for technical innovation, including the German BVL Supply Chain Innovation Award in 2016, the European Logistics Association’s Gold Medal for Supply Chain Innovation in 2017 and the China Federation of Logistics and Purchasing Automotive Logistics Innovation Award in 2018. Under Toornman’s leadership, the company was also a finalist in the North American CSCMP Supply Chain Innovation award in 2019.

The collaboration and partnership between AGCO and 4flow has been instrumental in achieving these successes. Together, they developed an innovative and globally integrated network that set new standards and operating concepts in the industry. This partnership exemplifies 4flow's commitment to supporting customers from strategy to implementation and continuous optimization, enabling them to solve the most complex challenges and achieve sustainable value creation.

Expressing his enthusiasm about the new role, Toornman stated, "I am excited to embark on this new chapter with 4flow. Our shared vision of innovation, operating culture and excellence in supply chain management aligns perfectly. I look forward to contributing to the company's strategic growth and expanding our impact across industries."

Kai Althoff, CEO of 4flow, commented on the appointment. "We are thrilled to welcome Greg to 4flow as a strategic advisor. His proven track record and deep industry insights will be invaluable as we continue to grow and strengthen our presence, particularly in the North American market. This partnership underscores our dedication to delivering unparalleled value to our clients worldwide."

Toornman's appointment marks a significant milestone in 4flow's ongoing efforts to enhance its global footprint and deliver cutting-edge supply chain solutions.
